

The Gazebo at the Farmer's Market, Heritage Park, Port Royal
 Saturday Classes begin at 12:00 noon and are free... just bring a folding chair

Date	Program	Speaker	Description
April 7	Survival of the Fittest	Jay Weidner	Darwin had the right idea. Jay will show you plants for uncommon weatherwhich has become common in the Lowcountry!
April 14	Bulbs for the South	Sandra Educate	You really can tiptoe through the tulips .And daffodils, and many, many more. You just have to know which ones and to supply their special needs.
April 21	Supermarket Orchids ARE Worth Saving	Alice Massey	Pricy, but what other perennial can bloom for literally months and even be architectural when the blooms are gone? Alice will show you how to make them bloom again next season.
April 28	Container Vegetable Gardens	Laura Lee Rose	The perfect way for plants to follow the sun (they need lots) and eliminate back-breaking ground cultivation and harvesting. New dwarf varieties give you an exciting selection.
May 5	Monarch Butterflies	Kathleen Grewenig	These regal flutterers are in peril. Kathleen is their champion and will give you advice on giving them what they need to survive, propagate and migrate successfully.
May 12	Citrus in the Lowcountry	Joe Allard	Bountiful harvests of lemons, limes, oranges, grapefruit, and more can be had if you just respond to their needs.
May 19	Up Cloche and Personal	Alice Massey	Cloches aren't just ladies hats. Cloches and other methods to protect tender plants
May 26	Daylilies	Victoria Bergesen	The workhorses of the garden. It's said that there are more daylily cultivars than any other garden plant. But why don't most of them thrive in the Lowcountry? Victoria will explain and give tips on selections, care and division
June 2	Divine Vines	Sandra Educate	There is something delightful about a vining flower peeking through the branches of a tree or shrub. Vines aren't just for trellises. Vining flowers are favorites for pollinators and hummingbirds...so plant lots!
June 9	Banish Bambi	Wendy Hilty	Bambi, be gone! Tips for keeping those pretty but destructive marauders out of your garden
June 16	Native Plants	Laura Lee Rose	Find out why these deserve a place in your garden. Most are low maintenance and the best resource for pollen and nectar.
June 23	Absolutely the Best Perennials for Shade	Jay Weidner	Just because you don't have sun doesn't mean your garden has to be dull and monotonous. There's a huge world of colorful shade perennials and Jay will tell you the best for the Lowcountry.
June 30	Keeping it Growing	Amanda McNulty	Our signature season-end class. Join Amanda and a great panel to answer your gardening questions. And don't forget to wear an imaginative hat!

!.